

Insight into Action™ Driver Workshop (Web)

Delivered online over three hours, the Insight into Action™ workshop enables drivers to reflect on their own personal driving behaviours focusing on how to make changes to improve well-being and safety when driving for work.

- Learning takes place via interactive group discussion
- Tailored to address each driver's behavioural and coping styles
- Helps drivers to reflect on how habits can affect safety
- Tackles driver stress and fatigue by focusing on developing safer coping strategies
- Addresses driving in the Covid-19 environment
- Each driver develops a personal action plan
- Register individual drivers or a dedicated group booking

Personalisation

Each driver completes a Fleet Driver Risk Index™ (FDRI) prior to the workshop. The FDRI is the most extensively validated measure of behavioural and coping risk assessment available – it identifies the driver's individual risk against a range of factors. The FDRI report enables the driver to self-reflect on their driving style, and the DriverMetrics® coach to respond to each individuals specific needs during the workshop.

Accredited DriverMetrics® Coaches

A DriverMetrics® accredited coach delivers the Insight into Action™ workshops. All of our coaches have completed a 12-month BTEC Level 4 Professional Award in Coaching for Driver Development, as well as the DriverMetrics® accreditation course, delivered personally by Dr Lisa Dorn Research Director for DriverMetrics® and senior academic at Cranfield University. This ensures that our coaches are highly experienced in how to influence at-risk driver behaviours identified by DriverMetrics® assessment.
